ARDENGLLEN

Retention Policy and Schedule

Introduction

The UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) provides that organisations which process personal data must not retain that data for any longer than is necessary for the purposes for which the personal data are processed.

Purpose

This policy details Ardenglen Housing Association's approach to the retention, deletion and destruction of personal data. All Ardenglen Housing Association personnel are obliged to familiarise themselves with this policy and refer to it on an ongoing basis to ensure that its terms are implemented and complied with.

This procedure applies to all directors, associates, members, employees, volunteers, contractors (temporary and permanent) (referred to herein as 'Ardenglen Housing Association personnel').

Storage of Personal Data

Ardenglen Housing Association stores personal data in a variety of ways. This includes hard copy documents, emails, digital documents stored on desktop computers, laptops, phones and other devices, data stored on our servers and in our cloud-based storage, along with data stored by third parties on our behalf.

When updating, rectifying, erasing and deleting any personal data, due care must be taken to ensure that all personal data held in all locations (including back-up storage) and in all forms is dealt with securely and to ensure that a consistent and accurate record of personal data is maintained.

Retention of Personal Data

Different types of personal data may need to be retained for different periods of time depending on the purposes for which the data is processed and the legal and regulatory retention requirements in relation to certain categories of data.

In determining the appropriate retention period consideration should be given to the following factors:

- the purposes for which the personal data is processed;
- the legal basis for processing that personal data;
- legal requirements for retention (particularly employment and health and safety law); and
- regulatory requirements.

An appropriate retention period should be identified for each category of personal data. Data subjects must be informed of the retention period which applies to their personal data or, if there is no fixed retention period, the criteria used to determine that period; and where the purposes for which the data is processed have changed, any new retention period.

All personal data processed by Ardenglen Housing Association shall be retained in accordance with the periods set out in the retention schedule below, consisting of the following parts:

- Part 1: General Governance, incorporating Governance, Data Governance, Formal Meetings, Regulations and Statutory Returns, Strategic and Insurance, in accordance with supervision provided by:
 - Chief Executive Officer; and
- Part 2: Finance, Other Banking Records and Capital Assets, in accordance with supervision provided by:
 - Director of Finance, Digital & Corporate

Part 2 should be read in conjunction with Finance and UK GDPR Procedure, which is incorporated into this Policy at Appendix 1.

- Part 3: Contracts and Agreements in accordance with supervision provided by:
 - Chief Executive Officer; and

- Director of Finance, Digital & Corporate.
- Part 4: Human Resources and Health & Safety in accordance with supervision provided by:
 - Chief Executive Officer; and
 - Director of Finance, Digital & Corporate
- Part 5: Housing Associations and Tenancy Records in accordance with supervision provided by:
 - Director of Customer Services

Personal data will be retained in accordance with the appropriate retention period and permanently deleted and/or securely destroyed in accordance with this policy. No personal data shall be destroyed or deleted other than in accordance with this policy.

Review and Deletion of Personal Data

A review of the personal data processed by Ardenglen Housing Association will be carried out every 2 years. During the course of this review we will:

- Review the retention periods for each category of personal data processed and whether any alteration to these periods is required
- Identify personal data which is due for destruction and deletion
- Arrange for the secure deletion and destruction of personal data which will no longer be retained

Monitoring and Reporting

Regular monitoring and audits will be undertaken by the Data Protection Lead and/or DPO to check compliance with the law, this policy and associated procedures. Any concerns will be raised with the Senior Management Team.

Policy Review

This policy will be reviewed every 24 months or when required to address any weakness in the procedure or changes in legislation or best practice by the Data Protection Officer.

STATUTORY RETENTION PERIODS

The following represents an ever-changing list of retention periods. The list is not exhaustive. The list may need to be modified to suit your particular organisation

The main UK legislation regulating statutory retention periods is summarised below. If employers are in doubt, it's a good idea to keep records for at least 6 years to cover the time limit for bringing any civil legal action.

Accident books, accident records/reports

Statutory retention period: 3 years from the date of the last entry or, if the accident involves a child/ young adult, then until that person reaches the age of 21. See below for accidents involving chemicals or asbestos.

Statutory authority: The Reporting of Injuries, Diseases and Dangerous Occurrences Regulations 1995 (RIDDOR) (SI 1995/3163) as amended, and Limitation Act 1980. Special rules apply concerning incidents involving hazardous substances (see below).

Accounting records

Statutory retention period: 3 years for private companies, 6 years for public limited companies.

Statutory authority: Section 221 of the Companies Act 1985 as modified by the Companies Acts 1989 and 2006.

Income tax and NI returns, income tax records and correspondence with HMRC

Statutory retention period: not less than 3 years after the end of the financial year to which they relate.

Statutory authority: The Income Tax (Employments) Regulations 1993 (SI 1993/744) as amended, for example by The Income Tax (Employments) (Amendment No. 6) Regulations 1996 (SI 1996/2631).

Medical records and details of biological tests under the Control of Lead at Work Regulations

Statutory retention period: 40 years from the date of the last entry.

Statutory authority: The Control of Lead at Work Regulations 1998 (SI 1998/543) as amended by the Control of Lead at Work Regulations 2002 (SI 2002/2676).

Medical records as specified by the Control of Substances Hazardous to Health Regulations (COSHH)

Statutory retention period: 40 years from the date of the last entry.

Statutory authority: The Control of Substances Hazardous to Health Regulations 1999 and 2002 (COSHH) (SIs 1999/437 and 2002/2677).

Medical records under the Control of Asbestos at Work Regulations:

medical records containing details of employees exposed to asbestos and medical examination certificates

Statutory retention period: (medical records) 40 years from the date of the last entry; (medical examination certificates) 4 years from the date of issue.

Statutory authority: The Control of Asbestos at Work Regulations 2002 (SI 2002/ 2675). Also see the Control of Asbestos Regulations 2006 (SI 2006/2739) and the Control of Asbestos Regulations 2012 (SI 2012/632)

Medical records under the Ionising Radiations Regulations 1999

Statutory retention period: until the person reaches 75 years of age, but in any event for at least 50 years.

Statutory authority: The Ionising Radiations Regulations 1999 (SI 1999/3232).

Records of tests and examinations of control systems and protective equipment under the Control of Substances Hazardous to Health Regulations (COSHH)

Statutory retention period: 5 years from the date on which the tests were carried out.

Statutory authority: The Control of Substances Hazardous to Health Regulations 1999 and 2002 (COSHH) (SIs 1999/437 and 2002/2677).

Records relating to children and young adults

Statutory retention period: until the child/young adult reaches the age of 21.

Statutory authority: Limitation Act 1980.

Retirement Benefits Schemes – records of notifiable events, for example, relating to incapacity

Statutory retention period: 6 years from the end of the scheme year in which the event took place.

Statutory authority: The Retirement Benefits Schemes (Information Powers) Regulations 1995 (SI 1995/3103)

Statutory Maternity Pay records, calculations, certificates (Mat B1s) or other medical evidence

Statutory retention period: 3 years after the end of the tax year in which the maternity period ends.

Statutory authority: The Statutory Maternity Pay (General) Regulations 1986 (SI 1986/1960) as amended.

Wage/salary records (also overtime, bonuses, expenses)

Statutory retention period: 6 years.

Statutory authority: Taxes Management Act 1970.

National minimum wage records

Statutory retention period: 3 years after the end of the pay reference period following the one that the records cover.

Statutory authority: National Minimum Wage Act 1998.

Records relating to working time

Statutory retention period: 2 years from date on which they were made.

Statutory authority: The Working Time Regulations 1998 (SI 1998/1833).

RECOMMENDED (NON-STATUTORY) RETENTION PERIODS

For many types of HR records, there is no definitive retention period: it is up to the employer to decide how long to keep them. Different organisations make widely differing decisions about the retention periods to adopt. Employers must consider what a necessary retention period is for them, depending on the type of record.

The advice in this document is based on the time limits for potential UK tribunal or civil claims. The period is often a question of judgement rather than there being any definitive right answer.

In England and Wales, the Limitation Act 1980 contains a 6-year time limit for starting many legal proceedings. So, where documents may be relevant to a contractual claim, it's recommended that these are kept for at least a corresponding 6-year period. In Scotland the time limits are generally 5 years, as set out in the Prescription & Limitation (Scotland) Act 1973, as amended.

Actuarial valuation reports

Recommended retention period: permanently.

Application forms and interview notes (for unsuccessful candidates)

Recommended retention period: 6 months to a year. (Because of the time limits in the various discrimination Acts, minimum retention periods for records relating to advertising of vacancies and job applications should be at least 6 months. A year may be more advisable as the time limits for bringing claims can be extended. Successful job applicants documents will be transferred to the personnel file in any event.

Assessments under health and safety regulations and records of consultations with safety representatives and committees

Recommended retention period: permanently.

Inland Revenue/HMRC approvals

Recommended retention period: permanently.

Money purchase details

Recommended retention period: 6 years after transfer or value taken.

Parental leave

Recommended retention period: 5 years from birth/adoption of the child or 18 years if the child receives a disability allowance.

Pension scheme investment policies

Recommended retention period: 12 years from the ending of any benefit payable under the policy.

Pensioners' records

Recommended retention period: 12 years after benefit ceases.

Personnel files and training records (including disciplinary records and working time records)

Recommended retention period: 6 years after employment ceases.

Redundancy details, calculations of payments, refunds, notification to the Secretary of State

Recommended retention period: 6 years from the date of redundancy

Senior executives' records (that is, those on a senior management team or their equivalents)

Recommended retention period: permanently for historical purposes.

Statutory Sick Pay records, calculations, certificates, self-certificates

Recommended retention period: The Statutory Sick Pay (Maintenance of Records) (Revocation) Regulations 2014 (SI 2014/55) abolished the former obligation on employers to keep these records. Although there is no longer a specific statutory retention period, employers still have to keep sickness records to best suit their business needs. It is advisable to keep records for at least 3 months after the end of the period of sick leave in case of a disability discrimination claim. However, if there were to be a contractual claim for breach of an employment contract it may be safer to keep records for 6 years after the employment ceases.

Timecards

Recommended retention period: 2 years after audit.

Trade union agreements

Recommended retention period: 10 years after ceasing to be effective.

Trust deeds and rules

Recommended retention period: permanently.

Trustees' minute books

Recommended retention period: permanently.

Works council minutes

Recommended retention period: permanently.
